*Southern Express Company : "Attention is called with pride to the page advertisement of the Southern Express Company. General r eaders of magazines and newspapers will know that this old and strong corporation rarely ever advertises its business. This is fitting, however, for the Veteran completely covers its territory and we bespeak reciprocal kindness from our patrons, especially in the purchase of money orders.
With the mail that brought General Manager Loop's letter there were thirty post office orders, so if Uncle Sam should divide the business with the old Southern Express Company, the patronage of this office even would aggregate a large sum.*
